F. E. Hotchkiss Dead.

Was Struck by a Freight Train and Fatally Injured.

News has just been received from Chicago of the death near that city of F. E. Hotchkiss. Mr. Hotchkiss arrived in Hilo on the first trip of the S. S. Enterprise and up to within a few months ago resided with his wife and family at Honohina, where Mr. Hotchkiss was engaged in the management of the Honohina Coffee Company. The cause of death which occurred April 18th at Lagrange, a suburb of Chicago, was the result of injuries received by being struck by a passing freight train. Mr. Hotchkiss suffered from deafness, which is supposed to have been the cause of the accident. He was born in Milwaukee Aug. 26th, 1861 and lived there until ten years ago, when he went to Chicago and entered the brokerage business. For many years he was associated with George A. Seaverns Co. of Chicago and at the time of his death was a popular member of the Chicago Board of Trade. He is survived by a widow and three young children, two girls and one son. Both he and his family were well known here socially where they were general favorites, and his widow and bereaved family have the heartfelt sympathy of a multitude of friends.

The Sham Battle.

Tickets for the excursion and sham battle at Puna Sunday are selling rapidly and the outlook is good for a big attendance. The trains will leave the new depot at 9 a. m. The party will be composed of the members of Company D and their friends and all others who want to enjoy a fine day outing. The people will take full dinner baskets and make a day of it.

The details of the sham battle have been decided upon, and the encounter promises to be exciting. The company will be divided into four divisions which will be under the command respectively of Captain Fetter, Captain Ludwig, Lieut. Ludloff and Lieut. Beers. Their adversary will be a small company of picked men stationed on one of the Puna hills and protected by the heavy guns. The guns will be in charge of Corporal Hering who will have seventy rounds of ammunition with which to defend the hill against the balance of the company. Each member of the company will carry forty rounds of ammunition and as a consequence the day will be a smoky one at Puna.

Holmes, had made every arrangement for the entertainment of the company. Worthy Patron F. Souza and Worthy Matron Mrs. K. F. Mackie assisted the committee in receiving the guests. GUARD OFF HIS GUARD.

Is Presented a Past Exalted Ruler's Jewel by Hilo Lodge.

The Hilo Lodge of Elks caught Past-Exalted Ruler R. T. Guard off his guard Monday night. At a meeting called especially for the purpose, the Past Exalted Ruler was presented with an official jewel by the members of the lodge. The affair had been kept secret from Mr. Guard and when the meeting had been called to order and Brother G. F. Little was asked to talk, he had no inkling of what was coming. When the Judge referred to the fraternal remarks alleged to have been made by Abraham and Solomon only those who knew what was coming could figure out what the speaker was driving at. He made a few further remarks on the necessity of association and fellowship in civilized life and wound up by drawing from his pocket the shining jewel. Guard was ordered to step to the front and then it dawned upon him what it all was about. Judge Little then presented the badge to Mr. Guard amid the hearty applause of the assembled herd of Elks.

In response Mr. Guard lost the thread of his thought but his brief speech of acceptance was indicative of the appreciation he felt.

After the ceremony was over, the House Committee through its spokesman, E. E. Richards stated that it would stand the treats. Accordingly the library table was changed to a dining table and delicacies were piled high.

Exalted Ruler A. C. McKenney took occasion to boost the Ebony Minstrels which will appear in Hilo July 3 and 4. Brother Prouty, musical director for the event, devoted some time to a test of the vocal powers of the Elks present. He was in search of material for his chorus. It was found that there are few if any in the Elks Lodge who cannot sing. The public will have a chance to determine this question the Fourth of July.

SUCCESSFUL CHURCH SOCIAL.

Excellent Program of Music at First Foreign Church.

The social Tuesday night at the First Foreign Church was the best that has been given since the new church was built. The company present was large and served as an inspiration to those who appeared on the program. The variety and excellence of the entertainment was of the first order every number being given the hearty encore it deserved.

The program was opened with a baritone cornet solo by Prof. Carvalho, which was followed by a piano solo by Mrs. J. T. Lewis. Mrs. Moses and Miss Huggins played beautifully on the violin, their duet being roundly encored. To this they responded later in the evening with a second piece which was as favorably received.

Four boys from the Hilo Boarding School gave an exhibition of Indian Club swinging which delighted the audience. C. N. Prouty rendered a vocal solo which was given a hearty encore. Mrs. H. L. Ross and Mrs. W. I. Madeira sang a duet winning their usual share of approbation. A recitation by W. C. Cooke closed the formal program.

A novel diversion was a guessing contest in which the audience was asked to participate. A few characteristics of great men were presented on a placard, the problem being to guess the identity of the personage. Delightful refreshments served to all completed the order of the evening.
